LOCAL AND GENERAL

The Sanatorium has voluntarily given up its liquor license.

The Bulletin in several days off its schedule this issue. Blame it on a gripe.

One of the most attractive calendars we have received this year came from Messrs. Plante & Antel.

The Bulletin tenders its thanks to Ed. Eacott for a very handsome calendar, and also a box of excellent cigars.

The Bulletin has been advised that the fine imposed on H. C. McBurney recently as a result of charges preferred by License Inspector Hodgkins will be omitted on the grounds of wrongful prosecution.

The annual congregational meeting of the members and adherents of the Institutional church will be held on the 17th inst., when reports will be submitted from the various departments of the church. Light refreshments will be served during the evening.

The public are reminded that the monthly subscriptions to the Patriotic and Red Cross Funds are now due and payable. The money may be left with Mr. Bu Lock at the Bank of Commerce, Remembrance. "The gives twice who gives quickly."

Fred Cote is one of the busiest men in town these days. He is one of the best plumbers in the country, and besides, in his thimble he can make anything from a copper boiler to a tin for your naughty kids. When you have occasion to buy any tinware, go to Cote's and get the made-in-Colman kind.

Mr. Stopford, of the Bank of Commerce staff here, has been transferred to the branch at Bassano and left a few days ago for that place. It is much further from Bassano to Lethbridge than from Coleman, and "Stop" will no doubt feel grieved that the bank should add to the high cost of living by sending him so far away. But such is life.

Lethbridge Herald: Announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Nell Darwin, daughter of Rev. O. Darwin, superintendent of Methodist missions, Regina, and sister of Mrs. L. Norman, Coleman, to Capt. J. Dwight Dawson, paymaster of the 10th Battalion, at present in France. The wedding takes place in London, England, early in January.

A fellow dropped into the Bulletin office the other day and ordered the paper, and we were pleased. Said it was a good paper, and we were glad. Said it was more than worth the money to any man of intelligence, and we were tickled. Said it was the greatest booster and the most reliable town-builder and developer in this whole community, and we yelled for joy. Paid for his paper—and we slid gently to the floor in a beautiful unconsciousness. Nature had reached its limit.

Cecil Gover has leased the brick store building under the Eagles' hall and will move his stock of general furnishings, etc., into it in the near future. He says it is easier to move money than to move goods, so if you want to secure some excellent goods at very reasonable prices, this should be your opportunity. Besides, at a time when most of us are wearing a hibernian expression it is something of a relief to find a business man who is sufficiently optimistic to spread out a little. Such a venture should be generously encouraged. Go in and order that suit of clothes today.

Sing a song of footlights. Piano groans and whines. Five fluffy chorus girls standing in a line. When the curtain rises. The girls begin to sing. But not a person in the house can understand a thing.

"The Girl From Nowhere" was put on at the opera house here last Wednesday week, and while there was little if any open criticism of the performance, there were expressions of disappointment on all sides that the company should cut its program down to such an extent that little more than a third was seen by the audience here. The leading lady was ill, and her understudy only appeared on the stage for three short periods during the whole evening. All the dancing and singing songs were eliminated, as were also two scenes and one whole act.

The management of the opera house are making an effort to supply a popular local demand for a musical comedy occasionally, and it is too bad that their first attempt should be treated as it was by the company. However, all show companies are not quite so devoid of principle in this respect as was the one which appeared here last week, and The Bulletin hopes that Mr. Eacott will not "throw up the sponge" because he was handed a lemon on this occasion.

The following officers of the local Masonic Lodge were installed on Monday evening by District Deputy W. L. Ouimet, who acted as installation master: W. M., H. G. Gudev; S. W., McKeen Hunter; J. W., Harry Gate; treasurer, A. Cameron; secretary, W. L. Ouimet; chaplain, J. Lonsberry; S. D., James Allan; J. D., V. H. Lowden; S. S., W. Haysom; J. W., Edwin-Barnes; Tyler, Ed. Disney.

During the recent alleged prohibition campaign in Alberta we were told that the proposed Alberta Liquor Act was exactly the same as the McDonald Act of Manitoba and the Act now in force in Prince Edward Island. All right, then. Here's a nut for the supporters of that Act to crack. In 1913 the convictions in P. E. I. for drunkenness increased over those for the year 1912 by 4.85 per cent., while in Winnipeg the number of convictions for the same offence for the same period decreased 8.89 per cent. Is that what is going to happen in Alberta? If you are at all skeptical as to the correctness of the above figures, don't take our word for them, but write the Department of Trade and Commerce at Ottawa and get a copy of the 1914 report of criminal statistics. You will find pages 24, 254 and 255 very interesting. Go to it.

The school board would be well advised to look into the matter of the insurance on the school property. It was not placed in accordance with the regulations of the board committees in fact, in order to get this business the agent who wrote it violated the Alberta Insurance Act. It is, of course, none of the business or concern of this paper who gets the school board's insurance business, but the manner in which this item was handled this year was not only decidedly "raw," but it was so unbusinesslike, and so uncalled-for that we deem it very much in the interest of the school district as a whole to point out the fact that if the Coleman public school should burn down tomorrow the board would be apt to have a merry time collecting the insurance. The sum of about twenty thousand dollars is involved—to much to risk, especially when it is or would be the money of the people.

No need to go into the details of the transaction at this time. It was inevitable, however, that the matter should leak out, as the companies who lost the insurance business naturally object to the method employed by the school board. The matter is now occupying the attention of the insurance inspector of the Province, and that the agent who was the prime mover in the deal will lose his Provincial license would seem inevitable.

When to the barber's shop I wander, I always feel at a loss, with whiskers sticking here and yonder, till he'd disgrace a Chinese joss. And as he shaves the bar or whistles, or hums some cheerful, fling air, the while he amputates the bristles and spreads some tonic on my hair. He does not talk to me or bore me, this most discreet of workmen; he sprinkles talcum powder over me and hopes I'll feel all right. When from his shop I all shaved, I rally, my self respect again is high; I don't go sneaking under the alley, or shun the keen-eyed passer-by. I'm conscious of a transformation, no more I feel like twenty cents, I ornament my sex and station, I will compare with other gents. If barbers ceased their helpful labors, and failed us in the hour of need, then you and I and all our neighbors would lose our grip and go to seed. We would descend to low conditions, and in the slinks of sluttish, for whiskers kill all sane ambition, they're fatal to an honest pride.

December Rod and Gun, published by W. J. Taylor, Limited, Woodstock, Ont. is on the news-stands and is replete with interesting stories of outdoor life, besides the usual departments devoted to Guns and Ammunition, Fishing Notes, etc., etc. which are well maintained. Some of the stories noted are The Hunters Christmas, Three Poles and a Cree, Hector: A Story of Dog Devotion, Northern Camping Trails, A Just Retribution, Sailor of the Woodlands, Newfoundland Caribou, Adventures of Ned alias Oile. A new department which promises to be of special interest is conducted by Arthur Ellison and devoted to the interests of dog lovers under the caption of The Kennel.
